

CASE STUDY

DERBY COUNTY TRAINING GROUND

Moor Farm, Oakwood, Derby

Project: Construction of Training Facility
Client: Derby county Football Club
Design By: PSD
Contract Value: £ 763,000

Built at an overall cost of £5million, the complex covers 50 acres and has six irrigated full size pitches plus an indoor pitch.

White Horse built the pitches on preformed platforms, installing a comprehensive drainage system and constructing attenuation ponds. The plateaus were laser graded prior to draining and then imported sand and root zones were used to produce first team and academy match pitches. Further sand ameliorated pitches were formed for second team practise. The main pitches were fully irrigated by an automatic pop-up system.
